

CONTEST CLOSE IN TENNESSEE FOR GOVERNOR

Hill McAllister Has Lead of 2,853 Votes Over Austin Peay, Incumbent; Dr. Neal Poor Third.

GARRETT LEADING CONGRESS RACE

Representative in Close Contest With W. W. Craig—Many Congress Members Unopposed.

Nashville, Tenn., August 5.—(AP)—Austin Peay, governor of Tennessee, and Hill McAllister, state treasurer, tonight were running a nip and tuck race for the democratic gubernatorial nomination with returns from 1,324 of the 2,195 precincts in the state giving McAllister a lead of 2,853 votes.

Tabulation of unofficial returns compiled at 11:30 o'clock tonight gave McAllister a total of 63,437 and Peay 60,584.

Of the 73 counties from which reports have been received Peay was leading in 46 and McAllister 27 but with several of the more populous counties including Shelby, giving McAllister a heavy vote.

In Memphis and Shelby county practically complete returns showed a total of 15,801 for McAllister and 3,053 for Peay. Davidson and the city of Nashville, incomplete, gave McAllister 4,324 and Peay 2,262.

Garrett Leading.
In the ninth congressional district Representative Finis Garrett held to a lead of 375 votes over W. W. Craig. Available returns tonight gave him a total of 10,176 votes and Craig 9,801 in 197 of the 211 precincts in the district.

Returns from the first congressional district indicated the renomination of Representative B. Carroll Reese in the only republican contest fought out in today's primary. At midnight returns gave him a lead in all except two of the counties. Joel N. Pierce, who was endorsed by J. Will Taylor, republican national committeeman from Tennessee was running second and O. B. Lovett third.

Returns are also coming in from the eighth judicial circuit but the election of Leslie Darr, opponent of John T. Raulston, well known in the Scopes case, is conceded by a small majority.

Neal Is Poor Third.
Dr. John R. Neal, senior counsel for Professor John T. Scopes at the Dayton evolution trial a year ago, was running a poor third in the democratic gubernatorial race. His vote was almost negligible.

McAllister claimed credit for having sponsored the Tennessee law which prohibited teaching of the theory of evolution in Tennessee.

The entire Tennessee congressional delegation were candidates for renomination. There was no opposition except in two districts, where the races were close.

Republicans previously had selected their nominee for governor. He is Walter White, of Rhea county, one of Scopes' prosecutors.

Another leading figure in the evolution trial also sought office again today. He is Judge John T. Raulston, who presided at the trial. The judge sought renomination by republicans in the eighth judicial district. State officials also were contested for in the primaries.

Two Warm Races.
Intensive races for congress in the ninth district, democratic and in the first, republican, culminated in today's primaries.

In the ninth district Finis J. Garrett, minority leader in the house and mated possibly for the democratic speakership in the event the democrats win the next national election, met determined opposition from W. W. Craig, of Ripley, Tenn., former state senator. Craig waged a concerted campaign throughout the ninth district, and proclaimed that Garrett had "held the job long enough."

Garrett, during the campaign for renomination on the democratic ticket for the twelfth congressional term, declared that he had declared he would not seek the honor of representing his district in congress after he had served a certain number of years, as was charged by his opposition in the campaign.

The Alert Woman of Today

The woman of today is doing things she did not do a few years ago. She has the ballot; she is participating actively in civic affairs; she has her club; she takes an active interest in sports. She is no longer a "stay-at-home" in the afternoon and evening.

You will find her at home in the morning, not to callers, but attending to household duties, one of which is reading the advertisements in the morning paper, looking for bargains in the articles needed, for she is still the purchasing agent of the home.

The rising supremacy of the morning paper is caused by the preponderance of people who have time to read in the morning. They use the afternoons and evenings for recreation and amusement.

The Constitution goes into more homes in Atlanta and suburbs every day than any other Atlanta newspaper. The women want it, for its advertisements give the last offerings for the day's business.

GORSLINE ORDERED ARRESTED TODAY IN CHOIR MYSTERY

Prosecutor Demands Warrant Be Served on Vestryman in Slain Pastor Hall's Church.

MYSTERY WOMEN FEATURING PROBE

Louise Geist Riehl Questioned by Simpson While Troopers and Police Work Like Beavers.

Jersey City, N. J., August 5.—The arrest of Ralph V. Gorsline, former vestryman in the church where Dr. E. W. Hall was pastor, as accessory to the Hall-Mills murder case has been demanded by State Senator Alexander Simpson, special prosecutor.

Simpson's positive order that Gorsline and Nellie Russell, a nee, be taken into custody by 11 o'clock Friday morning was the climax of a day of vacillation, during which he alternately insisted upon the arrests at once and asserted they would be postponed.

Letters Not Torn.
One of the most picturesque angles of the Hall-Mills murder was blasted late Thursday when Bogart T. Conkling, former sheriff of Somerset county, asserted that the love letters of Mrs. Mills had not been torn up and scattered over the bodies when he arrived at the scene. He was one of the first to view the body.

Conkling said that the letters lay in a neat pile beside the minister's body and that he had understood at the time they had been removed from his pocket for purposes of identification.

"Mystery Women" continue to crowd the case of the mad drama which moved along here at a frenzied pace with state troopers rushing to far off corners of New Jersey and "key" witnesses who are credited by New Jersey officials with having given him vital information. Arrests which will "clear up the crime" are anticipated by him.

The woman in Orange is believed to be Mrs. Augusta Tennyson, sister of Mrs. Eleanor Mills, the choir singer who was murdered with the minister. Meanwhile the prosecutor expects to examine the servants of Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, widow of the rector, the one-eyed brother of the rector, the one-eyed brother of the rector, the one-eyed brother of the rector.

The beaver-like activity in the vicinity of Somerville included the descent of an entire squad of New Jersey detectives on that town. Patrick J. Hayes, formerly chief of police at Hoboken, dashed off to New Brunswick, but he declined to reveal the object of his mysterious visit.

MRS. GEIST DECLARES COOK KNEW OF MURDERS.
Somerville, N. J., August 5.—(AP)—Mrs. Louise Geist Riehl, maid in the home of the Rev. Edward W. Hall at the time he and Mrs. Eleanor Mills, choir singer, were murdered, told Special Prosecutor Simpson today that before the rector's body was found, Marie Gilda, cook in the home, had declared: "He's been murdered."

Mrs. Riehl, whose husband's announcement precipitated the present investigation, told the state senator today of two conversations she had overheard between the rector and a man who disappeared from his home and the time his body was found beside that of Mrs. Mills under a crabapple tree on the outside of the church.

Sensor Simpson announced today that he expected to question Marie Gilda as to her knowledge of the case.

Continuing, Counselman Russell writes: "The movement for this great park development was suggested and initiated some time ago by Henderson Hall, man and the resolution introduced by him in the general council was in an effort by me to give legal status to the work done by him and other citizens."

In the second place, while I may have stated that the resolution did not require the immediate removal of the park and it involves the removal of the Peachtree disposal plant at the earliest time possible.

"I consider this one of the most constructive movements in our park development that we have experienced in a long time and I hope proper credit will be given to those who have done diligent work on the project. Furthermore, it is necessary to remove the Peachtree disposal plant."

"I hope that future publicity given the matter will be given careful consideration to the end that Peachtree Battle Memorial park and the Bobby Jones links will be pleasing to all the people and will result in early accomplishment."

Application for appointment of a guardian to administer business affairs of W. D. Manley, president of the Bankers Trust company of Atlanta and head of a chain of banks in Georgia and Florida, which closed their doors recently, on account of the "unsound condition of his mind and his incapacity to manage his estate," has been asked of the Fulton county court of ordinary.

The proceedings were filed by the law firm of Little, Powell, Smith and Goldstein acting for John McCullough, Jr., Manley's son-in-law.

Judge Thomas H. Jeffries, ordinary, has set August 14 as the date for a hearing in the case. Meanwhile he has appointed Mrs. Valeria M. Manley, wife of the banker, guardian ad litem.

To Enter Sanitarium.
It is understood that physicians of Manley have stated that for the past several weeks his mental condition has not been satisfactory and that he is in need of prompt treatment. It is further reported that if the guardianship request is granted, Manley will retire immediately to a sanitarium.

Filing of the suit recalls the fact that Manley several years ago suffered a nervous collapse and was treated at Johns Hopkins sanitarium and the Piedmont and other sanitariums in and about Atlanta.

Application Because of "Unsound Condition of Mind" and "Incapacity To Manage Estate."

SMITH TELLS COMMITTEE HE SAW NO REASON WHY UTILITIES MAGNATE SHOULD NOT CONTRIBUTE

Chicago, August 5.—(AP)—Winding up its inquiry into Illinois' recent million-dollar primary, the senate campaign committee today heard some frank statements and serious charges and had still another witness challenge its authority. In announcing adjournment of the committee subject to its call, Senator Reed, democrat, Missouri, the chairman, said it probably would be some time before the investigators assembled again, but added that they were ready to go into any serious charges of primary irregularities.

Frank L. Smith, chairman of the Illinois commerce commission; Daniel J. Schuyler, counsel for Samuel Insull, Chicago utilities magnate, who contributed heavily to Smith's successful campaign for the senate; George F. Safford, superintendent of the state Anti-Saloon league, and Morris Eller, republican boss of Chicago's 20th ward, were the principal witnesses at the final sessions.

Schuyler told of disbursing $32,925.19 for Insull on behalf of Smith's candidacy and of giving $3,600 of his own money to the Smith campaign.

He declined to say whether he had distributed large sums for Insull in the race for the senatorial nomination.

Refuses to Answer.
Upon Schuyler's flat refusal to answer, Senator Reed told him the committee would report his case to the senate with a view to contempt proceedings. Similar notice had been given to Samuel Insull, State Attorney Robert H. Crowe, of Cook county, and Thomas W. Cunningham, treasurer of the republican state central committee in Pennsylvania.

Recalled as the first witness of the day, Smith, Insull's lawyer, testified that he had understood while the campaign was in progress that Insull was contributing to his campaign fund.

Smith said that he saw no reason why he should not do so. Safford was taken over by wide grins and declared that he had agreed that the Illinois Anti-Saloon League seeks to influence primaries, elections and the legislature.

Smith testified that he is a "paid lobbyist" working for law and against wet ones, the league official declared.

A financial statement submitted to the committee by Safford showed that during the year ended last April his organization raised $180,313.41, of which $13,150 was paid over to the Anti-Saloon League and $1,581.15 was spent for law enforcement.

While questioning the right of the committee to inquire into the subject, Safford stated that his salary was $8,000 a year.

"Gunsman" Charges Made.
Charges that County Judge Edmund Jurek and Election Commissioner Czarnecki appointed "ex-convicts and gunmen" as election judges and clerks in his ward were made to the committee by Eller, who is identified with the powerful Crowe-Schuyler republican organization of Cook county.

Sensor Reed asked for a list of the "ex-convicts and gunmen," and a response Eller sent in a score or more of names by messenger late in the day and they were admitted to the room for part of the afternoon.

Immediately after his visit to the Chigi palace, he and Finance Minister Volpi went to the Capitol Hill, where they attended a ceremony at which Premier Mussolini presented the honorary citizenship of Rome to General Umberto Nobile, the captain of the Norge.

The secretary, Sen. Paul, arrived here tonight by automobile from Geneva. He will spend several days accompanying his father on sightseeing trips.

GOVERNMENT PLANS OFFICIAL DINNER

Fascist Leader Converses For Half Hour With Washington Visitor in Informal Conversation.

Rome, August 5.—(AP)—Andrew W. Mellon, American secretary of the treasury, was received by Premier Mussolini in the latter's private apartment at the Chigi palace today.

The secretary, who was unaccompanied, conversed in an informal fashion with the Italian premier for more than half an hour in the presence of Finance Minister Volpi and Undersecretary for Foreign Affairs Grandi, who joined in the conversation at times.

Although today's meeting was purely a private visit, another meeting between Secretary Mellon and Premier Mussolini will take place in a few days, when it is expected they will engage in a more detailed conversation, particularly with reference to financial matters.

Unofficial as today's visit was, it has confirmed the belief in official circles that important matters will be discussed before Secretary Mellon's departure from Rome. It was asserted that the nature of the conversation closely resembled that during the first meeting of Premier Mussolini with Benjamin Strong, Jr., governor of the New York Federal Reserve bank, which was followed by others of a more official character.

Further meetings between Secretary Mellon, Finance Minister Volpi and other Italian officials of an ostensibly unofficial character, also are regarded as probable. Meanwhile, the government is arranging an official dinner to the American secretary.

In his talk with Premier Mussolini, Secretary Mellon's discussion touched on general conditions in Italy and the United States. Since the visit was strictly a courtesy one and without official significance, neither Premier Mussolini nor Finance Minister Volpi made any remarks or explanations concerning Italy's financial condition and aspirations, nor did Secretary Mellon ask any questions concerning these matters.

Debt Is Mentioned.
The Italian-American debt settlement was mentioned but in a purely "historical fashion." Secretary Mellon told the fascist premier that he was favorably impressed by what he had seen thus far in Italy while the premier thanked him for the honor of his visit. The rest of the talk ranged from the weather to general remarks concerning political conditions and the fascist regime.

The remainder of Secretary Mellon's day was divided between resting at the home of his daughter, Mrs. David Bruce, and in signing.

Immediately after his visit to the Chigi palace, he and Finance Minister Volpi went to the Capitol Hill, where they attended a ceremony at which Premier Mussolini presented the honorary citizenship of Rome to General Umberto Nobile, the captain of the Norge.

"Sheik Myth" Is Exploded By Meeting of Scientists

PRINCE OF WALES ATTENDS CONFERENCE

BY CHARLES M. MCANN.
Oxford, England, August 5.—Explosion of the "sheik myth" and announcement of discovery of the first complete neanderthal skull have enlivened the first day's session of the British Association for Advancement of Science.

In both cases women delegates furnished the information. Authorities on astronomy, economics and scientists from other fields were on the program Thursday. The Prince of Wales, following his promise that he would not shirk his duties as president of the association, was in and out of many of the meetings during the day. He also visited his old classrooms at Magdalen college, where he was an undergraduate when the world war opened.

Explosion of what she called the "sheik myth" was made by Miss Winifred Blackman. She pointed out that sheiks are a type of holy men and said that people of the modern day should realize that women sheiks also exist, and devote most of their time to nursing the sick.

Miss Dae Garrod, a former student of anthropology at Oxford, was enthusiastically received when she told of her discovery of a neanderthal skull in a Gibraltar cave. Young and pretty, she held the attention of the delegates as she told of finding the skull of a "young person" who lived more than 2,000 years ago, in a cave in Gibraltar. She said that her discovery was made 150 yards from the spot where the so-called "Forbes skull" was found in 1848. She had not yet had time to study her find completely but was able to tell the meeting that it was "associated with an extinct species of man who was a member of the neanderthal race."

Sir Arthur Keith, famous anthropologist, in congratulating Miss Garrod, said that the skull was that of a boy eight or ten years old, and that it was the first complete neanderthal skull to be found.

It is like Pharaoh's daughter finding Moses in the bulrushes, only it is more important," Sir W. Boyd Dawkins, noted paleontologist, declared.

Subjects discussed Thursday ranged from eclipses of the sun to economics. Sir Josiah Stamp, famous economist, declared that the idle rich do not exist as a class. He argued that almost all wealthy people work hard, certainly harder than those of moderate wealth whose incomes are between $5,000 and $25,000 a year. He attacked socialist ideas of pooling wealth as a means of making everyone happy and declared that if all incomes above $1,250 a year were pooled it would give each family only $1.25 a week.

Three Homestead men were shot and killed this afternoon in a pitched battle with seven federal prohibition agents on the Cape Sable road, 27 miles southwest of Homestead and 13 miles from Royal Palm State park. None of the federal men was injured.

The dead are: M. P. Merritt, former constable of the sixth district, embracing Homestead, recently removed from office by Governor John W. Martin on recommendation of the Dade county grand jury.

Clyde Parrish, son of a former Homestead policeman, W. M. Parrish, recently ordered removed by Mayor S. E. Livingston.

J. A. Brinson, a resident of Homestead, the encounter is said to have been the aftermath of a series of liquor raids in the Everglades country, southwest of Homestead, in which three stills were seized.

According to reports of the fight reaching Homestead, the federal men were returning from the Everglades raids when an automobile carrying the three men now dead crept up to two motor cars carrying the federal men and began firing.

The federal officers, riding in closed cars, which afforded some protection from the bullets, returned the fire and within a few minutes had killed the three pursuers.

The federal agents went to Homestead and informed the police but declined to tell of the shooting and refused to give their names.

Bureau of Agricultural Economics Reports Peaches Have Taken Lead.

Chicago, August 5.—(AP)—Fruit dealers with sporting blood are being stirred by government reports of a big race that is on between peaches and watermelons.

Latest indications are that peaches are winning. A statement today from the United States bureau of agricultural economics says peaches have displaced watermelons at the head of the list of shipment reports.

About 5,700 cars of peaches have been forwarded this week, compared with 5,300 cars of watermelons.

The season's output of peaches from Georgia has already exceeded 14,000 cars, the heaviest movement on record.

Los Angeles, Calif., August 5.—(AP) Superior Judge Arthur Kestch, today sharply rebuked the county grand jury for the manner in which it has handled the investigation of the disappearance here last May of Almeda Temple McPherson, evangelist. He cited apparent "leak" from the jury room and certain recommendations said to have been made by a member of the jury to another county official. "The public," Judge Kestch told the jury, "may be open to the inference that the grand jury is playing politics. That such an inference is possible is intolerable."

Southern Railway Improves Tracks In Rome Section

Rome, Ga., August 5.—(Special.)—The Southern railway bridge across the Etowah river near the East Rome station, is being rebuilt and will be a modern steel structure. The improvement on this bridge and all trusses near Rome is a part of an extensive improvement program which the Southern now has under way between Chattanooga and Macon. Longer passing tracks are being laid on the Southern between Macon and Chattanooga and all bridges and other structures are being strengthened so that the heaviest locomotive now in the Southern service may be used on this line. The improvements began on this line about one month ago and in addition to strengthening the bridges, etc., a telephone dispatching line and electric automatic signals are being installed.

School Is Built.—(Special.)—A modern five-story school building is being constructed in the Glenwood district at the fork of Summer and Dalton roads as a result of a petition signed recently to consolidate the schools of Warren, Jones, Central Grove and Glenwood. The new school will cost about $4,000, to be paid by private subscriptions. Four extra rooms are being added to Model school to cost about $2,500. The Southern Brighton mills will pay for the work being done on that building, as the children of Shannon will attend school there.

TO LAUNCH WAR ON ATLANTA CRIME

test the home of the county prosecutor who has received several anonymous letters and tips that there are parties eagerly awaiting the moment to "snuff out" the solicitor's life. Information as to who requested the police captains to station men at the residence was not available, but police officials refused to deny that men were guarding the solicitor. In announcing the great campaign to "wipe out the breeding place of criminals" in Atlanta, Alderman Hartsfield said Thursday night that it would be the most general effort against vice, whiskey and criminal operations of all kinds the city has ever known. He said that judges of local courts would be invited to attend the police committee meeting tonight and pledge their aid toward making Atlanta "too hot for the criminal," and he issued a sweeping invitation to all persons interested in law enforcement—particularly civic leaders, women and ministers—to attend and lend their support to the movement.

List of Crime Centers.—"I have tabulated a list of 300 different places where lewd women, bootleggers, gamblers, thugs and other criminals congregate to ply their trade," Alderman Hartsfield said. "This list I have turned over to Chief of Police James L. Beavers, and he has assured me he will turn the energies of his entire department to their extermination. Chief Beavers will be given the chance of his life to show what he can do."

Mr. Hartsfield said that the concerted drive on crime and vice is the result of the murder of Donaldson, the first criminal for representing the law to be deliberately killed in order that he might be removed from the path of the criminal. "If this bold, brazen slaying of a man who was prosecuting his slayers isn't enough to wake the city to its situation," Mr. Hartsfield said, "I am greatly mistaken in the stripe of our citizens who are honest and upright. Something must be done, and drastic action is demanded."

Hartsfield Statement.—Mr. Hartsfield's statement in full follows: "Some months ago as chairman of the police committee I called the attention of the general council and the public to certain conditions requiring drastic action. In several public speeches I appealed for cooperation and support. Likewise some of the good women of Atlanta have attempted to wake the people up. "Surely the people need no further proof of crime conditions in Atlanta than has been furnished by recent developments. "Now is the time for every law enforcement agency in Atlanta, both executive, administrative and judicial, and every police official in any way connected therewith, to unite in a mighty effort to rid Atlanta of the hundreds of evil characters which infest the city."

List Given Beavers.—"For several months as a result of various investigations and complaints of citizens, I have tabulated a list of over 300 different places where lewd women, bootleggers, gamblers, thugs and other criminals congregate or ply their trade. This list I have turned over to Chief Beavers, and he has assured me that he will turn the energies of the entire department to their extermination. "We cannot hope to stem the tide of lawlessness by waiting for a crime and rush around after the criminal. The only effective method is the same as the extermination of mosquitoes—go after the breeding places, close them up and either put into jail or run out of town every loafer, bootlegger, crook or other suspicious character. "I have discussed this matter with the police committee informally and I know we will have the full cooperation of Chief Beavers."

Special Meeting.—"I am calling a special meeting of the police committee Friday night at which time we will ask Chief Beavers to have his officers on hand. We will also ask the judges to confer with us at that time, to the end that a mighty effort be made and persistently continued to free Atlanta of crime. "Chief Beavers is going to be given the chance of his life to show what he can do and if he gets the same cooperation and support from everyone else that he will get from the committee and will bend his every effort to the task in hand, then the jails will be filled up and the law-abiding citizens will have the benefit of a city free from the parasites upon the citizenship of Atlanta."

First to Warn City.—Mr. Hartsfield was the first city official to warn Atlantans of the looming era of crime and vice which has resulted in Donaldson's death, and he advocated a cleanup of the entire city. "He was a personal friend of Donaldson and the dead man's companion on many raids in the drive to purge Atlanta of undesirable, and his addresses to civic and patriotic organizations created a furor when he made known conditions in this city. "The new move is considered an act to make Atlanta what Donaldson has tried to make it for the past several months—a clean and law-abiding city. Every available resource of the city government will be thrown into the effort to bring to justice the assassins of Donaldson. Mr. Hartsfield and Solicitor General John A. Boykin Thursday were in conference and outlined tentative plans of cooperation which not only will include an exhaustive investigation for those responsible for Donaldson's death, but will also include a cleanup of the city."

Thursday which, he stated, revealed the movements of the brothers at the time of the murder and explained why Mrs. Mabel Jones fled from her home on Spring street with a gray suit of clothes belonging to "Mickey" Hughes. According to the statement of Attorney Taylor, he has complete alibis for the Hughes brothers and has informed Solicitor General John A. Boykin of the fact. "As a matter of fact," Mickey Hughes had on a blue suit Thursday night when the murder was said to have been committed, and he has never registered at the Georgian Terrace as "W. B. Sands" or anybody else," Taylor stated. The attorney said he had information that "Mickey" Hughes was in company with Mrs. Jones at the time of the murder and that neither he nor his brother, Harry, ever saw Bert Donaldson.

Manner of Arrest.—"Harry Hughes was at the Yellow Cab company's headquarters on Courtland street when arrested last Saturday night, and 'Mickey' was later arrested when he went to the tower to see why Harry was being held," Taylor told newspaper men. "Harry Hughes was arrested because he happened to be a taxicab man and was stationed near the Georgian Terrace hotel," Mr. Taylor stated. "It may have been sought to learn from him whether he hauled anyone of a suspicious nature away from the hotel on the night of the murder."

Mrs. Mabel Jones, who with Mrs. Cook, of Birmingham, companions of the Hughes brothers, is being held in a drug store robbery, she directed to "Mickey" Hughes in 1921 or 1922, and when "Mickey" was in the chain gang following conviction of a gang, but has separated from him.

Wood Charges Holder With 'Political Hoax' Over Highway Mileage

Gubernatorial Candidate Raps Highway and Farm Department Heads in Speech Before City Club

John N. Holder, chairman of the state highway commission, is perpetrating "the most damnable political hoax in the history of the south" through his promises of highway mileage to various Georgia counties in the hope of getting votes in the race for governor, and a political machine headed by Holder and Commissioner of Agriculture J. J. Brown is undertaking to control the state government. It was charged Thursday by J. O. Wood, Fulton legislator and candidate for governor, in an address before the City club, of which Joel Hunter is president.

Other features of Mr. Wood's address were the charge that when the people of Georgia arose in revolt against the soviet lease system, it was Holder, then chairman of the penitentiary committee, who bitterly fought for a continuance of the system, and that Holder and George Carwell are both candidates of Thomas W. Hardwick.

He declared that the main issue in the race is whether or not the state government shall continue to be dominated by political machine headed by Holder and Brown and embracing a large "invisible" force of oil inspectors who receive pay for doing virtually nothing. An effort to being made, he said, to belaud this issue by injecting the question of road bonds into the campaign, "when the matter of road bonds is a legislative one and has no place in a gubernatorial race, since the governor neither has to approve nor can he disapprove a bond issue."

Juggling Mileage Charged.

Mr. Wood declared that Mr. Holder had 5,000 miles of highway to allocate to various Georgia counties, and that the highway commissioner found he had allocated approximately 750 more miles than he had authority to let, and had his friends in the legislature pass a measure allowing him 500 additional miles.

"After covering the shortage of 750 miles he only had 50 miles left, and yet he claims to have 500 miles to allocate," the speaker said. "I have called on Mr. Holder repeatedly and not call on him again to make public allocations to the various counties which will receive the 50 miles and which will fail to receive the mileage which he has promised and which does not exist."

The candidate said he does not believe in disturbing the "usual order of things" until something better has been offered and gave that as one of his reasons for opposing the road bond issue last year.

Wants Reorganization.

Mr. Wood proposed, if elected governor, to recommend a complete reorganization of the state highway department. He advocated creation of a highway commission comprising one member from each congressional district, which, in turn, would employ a commissioner of roads chosen because of his peculiar fitness for building roads, and "who would devote his time to building roads instead of running around over the state trying to get another office."

He also proposed a radical curtailment of the force of fertilizer and oil inspectors in the department of agriculture. A force of six or eight oil inspectors would be sufficient, he thought, if the distillation test was inaugurated.

He charged that George Carwell is the candidate of Thomas W. Hardwick, and therefore an "accomplice" of Holder. He said Hardwick had expressed in the columns of his own paper a preference for Carwell as governor, but had stated that he didn't believe he could be elected because of his stand for bonds, and therefore he would support Holder.

Mr. Carwell and Dr. L. G. Hardman, he said, are inconsistent in their stand on bonds. He said Dr. Hardman is probably running "just to show that John Holder can't carry Jackson county for governor or anything else."

He referred to Mr. Carwell as "Ballot Box George."

"He burned the ballot boxes in his county, or rather they say he did, and he admitted it and that's all I know about it," Mr. Wood said. "Of course, he said he didn't burn them until after the votes had been counted, but, as a lawyer, he should have known that wasn't the thing to do. He wasn't even an officer authorized by law to burn ballots even if the proper time had elapsed. He was either wantonly destroying the ballots or he was too ignorant to be practicing law."

He took occasion to answer a rumor recently published in The Macon Telegraph to the effect that he would likely quit the race by telling his audience that "if anyone gets close enough to George Carwell to tell him, please inform him that I'm in the race to stay until the last ballot box is burned."

CARSWELL AND STEPHENS SPEAK AT LOUISVILLE.

Louisville, Ga., August 5.—(Special)—George H. Carswell, candidate for governor, spoke here this evening in the courthouse to an attentive audience. His coming had not been advertised very extensively and not many voters knew of his engagement here at this time. He was introduced by Roy V. Harris, local attorney.

Mr. Carswell spoke along the usual line that he has followed in making his campaign speeches. He declared that John Holder is his real opponent. He flayed "ring politicians" and "machine rule" in Georgia and said he stood for a reorganization of the state highway board and for good roads and education of all the children in the state.

Mr. Carswell's speech was followed by Judge Alex Stephens, who made a statement asking for the suffrage of the people in his race for reelection to the court of appeals.

To Honor Wylie Moore With Ice-Cold Melons And Hot Stump Talks

Ice-cold Georgia watermelons and speeches by candidates for the United States senate and city and county posts are included in the menu to be dished out at a luncheon at the hotel at 7:30 Monday night.

This is the promise held out Thursday by Alderman George Dobbs, chairman of the committee on the seventh ward, who declared that the affair will be a city-wide celebration in honor of Congressman Wylie L. Moore, also of the seventh, who is unopposed for reelection.

A solid carload of melons has been ordered, Mr. Dobbs declared, and Mr. Osburn stated a band will furnish music at the unique "party."

An all-inclusive invitation to every citizen was issued, the only requisite for participation being ability to dispose of large quantities of melons and to absorb the platforms of candidates.

"We have invited Mayor Walter A. Sims, William D. Upshaw and Leslie J. Steele, candidates for congress from this district; United States Senator Walter F. George and Judge Richard Russell, opponents for the post now held by the former; all candidates for mayor, recorder and other positions," Mr. Dobbs said. "As many of these as we have time to hear will speak, but the main object of the gathering is to honor our colleague—Wylie Moore."

DIVINE TO DISCUSS MODERNIST VIEWS

"What Shall I Do With Jesus" is the subject to be discussed by Evangelist B. B. Gonsoum at the tent on the corner of Dill and Allen avenues tonight at 7:45 o'clock. The theme will be considered with reference to the present war between the modernists and the fundamentalists. Congregational singing is a feature of the services.

Reputation for Quality Merchandise and Low Prices Developing Patronage From Wide Area.

There is an old overworked quotation to the effect that if you do something a little better than the other fellow "the world will make a beaten pathway to your door" and as proof that "the poet" knew whereof he spoke we point to the constantly growing business of Stephen Philibosian, Inc.

Here is a furniture, rug and drapery store that is not only a credit to Atlanta but to the entire south. Its reputation for beautiful merchandise at prices that are amazingly low is spreading to neighboring states.

During the last few days this firm has numbered among its customers several people who have come to Atlanta from considerable distances to take advantage of the buying opportunity this store is offering every day in the year.

Gradually the public is awakening to the fact that here is a store founded on sound business principles whose policy of buying and selling for cash is enabling them to offer extraordinary merchandise at prices that are so low.

VICTIMS OF DOUBLE DROWNING FOUND

Brunswick, Ga., August 5.—(AP)—The bodies of Rev. W. E. Smith, 30, Presbyterian minister of Douglas and scoutmaster, and Archie Bagwell, were recovered late last night following a double drowning at Long Island yesterday afternoon.

The story, as told by one of the boys, developed the fact that Mr. Smith, who was scoutmaster of the Douglas troops, encamped on Long Island, went in surf bathing with a number of boys at 4:30 o'clock.

After numerous water sports had been indulged in, Mr. Smith decided to hold a life-saving practice. Shortly after grasping hands and forming a line a huge wave washed over the bathers, knocking two of the smaller boys off their feet.

Although only a short distance from shore, the boys became excited and called for help. Mr. Smith, seeing their plight, immediately rushed to their assistance. After a severe struggle in the water the boys were enabled to reach shallow water. It was then discovered that Mr. Smith had become exhausted by his efforts to rescue the youths and was making desperate efforts to reach shore.

Archie Bagwell, one of the Scouts who had just been rescued, seeing his leader fighting valiantly to reach shore, again plunged into the water to save Mr. Smith and before the eyes of the excited Scouts on the shore the two disappeared from view.

Rescue parties were immediately formed and several boats were launched in an effort to locate the bodies. At 8:30 o'clock the body of Rev. Smith was washed up on the shore only a short distance from where he went down and two hours later parties patrolling the beach discovered the body of Archie Bagwell. Both bodies were immediately brought to Miller's undertaking establishment in Brunswick.

The father of Archie Bagwell, who had been notified in a letter of the death of his son, reached the island just a few minutes before the bodies were recovered.

A number of automobiles from Douglas arrived in Brunswick this morning. Funeral arrangements had not been definitely announced, but it has been decided that the entire Douglas Scout troops will accompany the bodies of their leader and comrade to Douglas, where funeral arrangements are pending.

Date Set in Macon For Trial of Davis Held in Dual Killing

Macon, Ga., August 5.—(AP)—Bars Davis will go on trial August 24 charged with complicity in the slaying near Camp Wheeler July 10, of Miss Hilda Smith and her fiancé, E. W. Wilson. The date has been fixed by Solicitor General Charles H. Garrett and needs the approval of Judge H. A. Mathews, who will be the trial judge. The court officials will have a conference Friday.

Davis is held without bond in county jail under two indictments charging him with being accessory, accomplice and principal.

The special grand jury that has investigated the case will meet again at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning to "consider other evidence," according to Foreman Henry Whitehead. There will be no appeal, to a higher court, the prison commission or the governor for Ed Glover, negro, who has confessed to the crime and who is under sentence to die September 9. In his confession on the witness stand, Glover charged that he was hired to fire the shots by Bars Davis.

SEEK GOVERNORSHIP

Nine Aspirants Speak at Bennettsville, S. C.

Bennettsville, S. C., August 5.—(AP)—The qualifications which should distinguish the next governor of South Carolina and possible ways in which duties of the executive might be performed were discussed here today by the nine aspirants for the gubernatorial post.

Candidates for lieutenant governor and commissioner of agriculture presented their arguments in asking for the support of voters here.

At Chesterfield yesterday an unusually large audience was spoken to by the state party which again discussed the propriety of the "soft-drink tax" and debated the issues of economy, local self-government, law enforcement and farm relief.

Gordon Promises To Free City Of Crime Rings If Made Mayor

A progressive, clean and business-like administration for Atlanta and a strict and vigorous enforcement of laws aimed to clear the city of the criminal element and undesirable are major planks in the platform of Robert A. Gordon, candidate for mayor, as announced Thursday from headquarters at the Piedmont hotel.

"I have entered this race because of a deep conviction that I can help Atlanta secure all these things," said Mr. Gordon. "I have been a business man of Atlanta for many years and have succeeded in my own affairs; I have served seven years in the general council of Atlanta as councilman and alderman, and feel that I am justified in saying that I know this city's affairs and problems. I believe that Atlanta, from one end to the other, is anxious to get its municipal affairs on a business basis, rather than a political basis, to the end that the city may live within its income, and at the same time always be progressive and forward-looking."

Protect Taxpayers.
"The city tax rate is fixed by law, but the assessments are made by the board of tax assessors, and these assessments should never be increased out of proportion to the natural and actual growth of the city and her tax base."

combined that our sanitary department is giving the very best service to the city under the circumstances under which it labors.

"I believe most emphatically that all of the departments of our municipality should be amply provided for and maintained upon a basis that will enable them to render efficient service to the public whose needs are steadily increasing."

"I trust that no further obstacles will be placed in the way of the issuance and sale of the bonds authorized by vote of the people a short while ago, and if elected mayor, I will use every effort to cooperate with the bond commission and the city government to the end that the work contemplated will progress as rapidly as is consistent with good business and without waste of the public funds. Having always in mind the purpose of securing the best results to the city for the money spent, I am aware that citizens sometimes vote against bonds on account of their lack of confidence in how the money will be spent. I want to say to the people of Atlanta that if I am elected mayor, I shall give every thought and attention to the handling of this bond money for the purposes contemplated by the voters exactly in manner and form as I would every personal transaction under my own hand. And not only so, I will give the same earnest and conscientious attention to the spending of every dollar of tax money in our municipal affairs."

Stands on Record.
"My record as councilman from the fourth ward for a period of four years and as alderman for three years, serving as mayor pro tem for one year, is a record of service upon which I am willing to stand. I invite every citizen and voter to come to the investigation of my record. I served on many important committees during my seven years in the general council and on all times and under all circumstances, I did my very best for the best interests of the people and of the city as I saw it."

"I introduced the ordinance which brought about the bond issue for schools and waterworks several years ago and I took an active part in every progressive measure since that time. Atlanta during the period of my service, and there is nothing in my record of which I am not proud."

SMITH TO OPPOSE COUNCILMAN YORK

School Authorities Urge Children To View Wonders Of Atlanta-Made Exposition

City's Biggest and Best Industrial Show Hailed As Beginning of New Prosperity Era.

"Every boy and girl in Atlanta should be given an opportunity to see the 'wheels go round' at the big industrial exposition at the auditorium. To see a little city of industry in full operation is a treat to any child, and added to this the fact that this miniature town represents Atlanta and the products made are our own, should be sufficient inducement for every Atlanta parent to see their children get a chance to view this vast panorama of industry," is the statement made by local school authorities Thursday in an effort to have school children attend the show before its closing Saturday night. The admission fee is only 10 cents for grown-ups and children alike.

Attendance at the big exposition has been heavy ever since its opening. Thousands of merchants, who are in the city attending the annual "Merchants week" have registered as guests. Two days remain before the closing of the big show. The industrial bureau of the chamber of commerce is urging attendance of Atlanta citizens. A letter went out from the chamber Saturday to 2,000 subscribers to the big $250,000 fund for advertising Atlanta, urging each subscriber to see the show.

"As an Atlanta citizen you should come out and see what 25 cents of Atlanta factories mean to the pay roll dividend. One hundred per cent show next year will wake up Atlanta and transform the state. Send the children in the afternoon and come yourself tonight," is the text of the message from the industrial bureau. The doors to the auditorium open each day at 10 o'clock in the morning and close at 11 o'clock at night. The show is in continuous progress between these hours. A hand concert is given each afternoon and evening, and moving pictures of Atlanta plants in operation are shown on the screen each night in Taft hall.

According to officials of the exposition, this year's show is the biggest and most spectacular ever given in Atlanta and it marks the entrance of the south into a new era of industrial prosperity. It is maintained that no Atlanta who is interested in the continued development of the city can afford to miss this opportunity of becoming better acquainted with the state.

CITY FILES ANSWER
IN BOND SALE SUIT

Answer to the suit of Thomas A. Brady to restrain the city of Atlanta from proceeding with the sale of bonds for the Central avenue and Pryor street viaducts, as well as other municipal projects covered under the special bond election, was filed in this district of federal court Thursday by James L. Mayson, city attorney.

The city's answer declared that full provision had been made for money necessary to carry out the twin-viaduct project and that the election provided for a sum of $1,000,000, to be derived from the sale of bonds, for the particular purpose. This sum will cover the city's part, the paper set out, and will be augmented by $450,000 from the railroads affected, and by $500,000 from Fulton county. The city's answer declared that this would be enough to complete the project, unless the viaducts were used by the Georgia Railway and Power company, in which instance that corporation would be called upon to pay the additional cost.

Mr. Brady charged that construction of the viaducts, including amounts to be paid property owners whose property would be impaired, would cost $7,500,000. This is denied in the city's answer, it being set out a score of times in the lengthy document that the estimated cost will not be more than $1,050,000.

No contracts will be made for construction of the viaducts until the money is in the city treasury, the paper declared, pointing out that the city charter prohibited any action contrary to this procedure.

The paper denied that the property of Mr. Brady would be damaged to the extent of $50,000, or any amount near that amount. The building is of no great value, the answer said, returning only $31,200 in taxes for the year 1926. It was brought out that the building on Mr. Brady's property was erected and is being used for warehouse purposes, that it is not a modern and valuable building and that it probably never would be used for anything except a warehouse.

Usual condemnation proceedings will be followed, it was declared, in cutting through Mr. Brady's property, and whatever amount he is entitled to for impairment of the property will be paid by the city.

Instead of decreasing the earning power of the remainder of Mr. Brady's property, it would be increased considerably, the answer set out. It was declared that property values in this particular section of downtown Atlanta have been on the decline for the past 10 years, and that the erection of the viaducts is the thing most necessary to the salvation of property owners.

The cooperation of other property owners on Pryor street, including the Kimball house on the Pryor street side, pointed out by Mr. Mayson in his petition, it being brought out that all tenants of the lower floor of the Kimball house on the Central street side had been given notice to vacate by July 1, 1927.

Hearing on Mr. Brady's petition is set for August 9.

SEABOARD TO OPEN
NEW GEORGIA LINE

Ludowici, Ga., August 5.—(P)—A survey of the proposed right-of-way of the Seaboard Air Line railway, which will run through Ludowici, is being made by a force of engineers.

The right of way and road-bed formerly used by the Georgia Coast and Piedmont railroad, now defunct, and which is in use by the Collins and Glennville railroad, which runs between the two towns for which it is named, will be used by the line, while from Glennville through Ludowici to Tibet, a point 10 miles south of here, a former right of way of the old Georgia Coast and Piedmont will mark the route for the new railroad.

It is understood that at Tibet the road will branch off from the abandoned route and run to Townsend, a station on the main line of the Seaboard, instead of the route formerly used to Warsaw, which is also on the main line of that road.

The new line of the Seaboard, which will connect up the coastal route of that railroad at Townsend to the middle Georgia line extending across the state at Collins. It has been estimated that the approximate distance between Collins and Townsend is 60 miles.

'Biggest Elk in World'
Is Victim of Apoplexy

W. T. BRINSON.

In specially built coffin that required ten pallbearers, the body of W. T. Brinson, who weighed 600 pounds, was interred at Waycross Thursday. He was officially proclaimed the "biggest Elk in the world."

Waycross, August 5.—(P)—In a specially-built casket and borne by 10 pallbearers, W. T. Brinson, 64, officially proclaimed as the "biggest Elk in the world," was buried late today. Brinson, who tipped the beam at 600 pounds and stood six feet four, died suddenly yesterday of apoplexy.

He was widely known as a business man and naval stores operator. Virtually everything that Brinson wore was made to order, with the exception of his hat, gloves and shoes. Only once in his life did he permit his size to be made the subject of bantering. That was when, several years ago, the national convention of the Elks took notice of him and officially gave him the title of "the biggest Elk in the world."

Action by U. S.
In Mexico Urged
At K. C. Meeting

Philadelphia, August 5.—(P)—Asserting that Mexican officials had "insulted, degraded and expelled American citizens, men and women, under circumstances that are abhorrent to our conception of constitutional government," the supreme council, Knights of Columbus, today called on President Coolidge and the state department to "put an end to this ignominious contempt" that has been shown by President Calles "for Americans' appeal."

Demand was made for protection of American citizens and for their treatment with the same consideration and respect that is shown to Mexicans in this country.

Labor Asked to Aid. The American Federation of Labor and affiliated organizations were urged to cooperate to safeguard "not only American rights, but the hard won victories of labor itself to protect it from servile submission to despotic authority."

The convention authorized the supreme board of directors to assess the membership of the organization $1,000,000 for a campaign of education, "to the end that the policies of soviet Russia shall be eliminated from the philosophy of American life and the ideals of liberty of conscience and democratic freedom may extend to our afflicted fellow human beings beyond the Rio Grande."

The religious situation in Mexico as it affects the Catholic church was considered one of the most important questions before the convention and had been under consideration since it convened last Monday. A special committee, appointed to consider the matter, reported today and its report was unanimously adopted.

After protesting against the policy of President Calles on "his recent despotism of the armed forces of his military regime in oppressing the vast majority of the people of Mexico, who are struggling to worship God according to the dictates of their conscience," the statement said: "We warn our fellow American citizens that they cannot endure at their doorsteps with impunity, the Russianizing of Mexico. The soviet philosophy controls the military powers of Mexico. The family to them is a myth and marriage a degradation. They have robbed it of its sanctity. Their conception of God is contempt for all religions."

"Under American Auspices." After declaring that civil and religious freedom are suppressed in Mexico the statement continues: "All this system in Mexico has been created under American auspices, sustained by American executive authority, which, in the first place, while refusing to recognize Lenin and Trotsky have, by executive order of recognition, accepted Calles and Obregon, who are the enthusiastic supporters of the bolshevik concept of government."

"We further point to the significance of the patronage bestowed upon these military despots by the continuance of such recognition, and particularly by the discriminating favoritism shown to Calles by the continuance of the embargo, which makes the Calles ascendancy possible."

"We call upon the president and the state department to put an end to this ignominious contempt which has been shown by Calles for Americans' appeal and to resolutely demand protection for American citizens and that they be treated with the same consideration and respect which is shown to Mexican citizens in this country."

"The period of 'watchful waiting' or any other such procedure is over. We, as American citizens, demand of our government that this action be taken forthwith."

Date Set for Rate Hearing
On Ga. Lumber Shipments

The Georgia public service commission was advised Thursday by the interstate commerce commission that the complaint of the Georgia public service commission against Atlantic Coast Line Railroad company regarding rates on logs between points in Florida and points in Georgia, has been assigned for hearing at the United States court rooms at Valdosta, Ga., 10 o'clock, October 20. The Georgia commission requested this hearing to be held in Valdosta for the convenience of the Georgia log and lumber interests.

Some months ago the Georgia commission undertook a revision of rates on logs moving between points in Georgia, and at the hearing several shippers brought to the attention of the commission the very low rates now being charged between points in Florida, as compared with rates from points in Florida to mill points in Georgia. It was stated that in some cases the rates from Florida points to Georgia points were more than 200 per cent higher than the rates for similar distances between points in Florida. The discrimination was said to be so great as to make it impossible for the Georgia manufacturer to meet the competition of the Florida manufacturer, not only on business in Florida but on lumber manufactured in Florida and shipped to other states. At the hearing one shipper testified that he had lost more than $50,000 because of this discrimination in favor of Florida during the past few years, and other shippers testified that they had had under consideration moving their businesses to Florida because of preferential rates in that state.

The Georgia commission sought to have this discrimination removed through the carriers and being refused this relief for the Georgia shipper filed a formal complaint with the interstate commerce commission, in which it is asked that the interstate commerce commission extend the low Florida rates into Georgia for application between points in Florida and Georgia.

It was stated at the offices of the Georgia commission that there will never be any further consideration of a revision of rates on logs between points in Georgia until the discrimination now said to exist in rates between points in Florida has been removed.

It was said that some of these banks might reopen this week, though names were given out.

It was also announced that the Fulton County bank, of Alpharetta, Ga., a member of the chain of small banks, closed yesterday.

Though no session of the grand jury was held Thursday, that body was reported by Solicitor General John A. Boykin to be still investigating the affairs of the Bankers' Trust company.

Progress toward reopening of the 20 branches of the Georgia State bank, which closed recently when the Bankers' Trust company of Atlanta went into the hands of the receivers, was made Thursday at a meeting of representatives of the institutions held in the senate chamber of the capitol.

Two plans were discussed at the session, and a committee was appointed to report "within 30 days" upon the plan in turn will be presented to the depositors and stockholders of the banks.

The nature of these plans was not revealed and no information regarding the meeting was forthcoming from the state banking department. It is believed that one of the plans will re-open the Georgia State bank, which closed recently when the Bankers' Trust company of Atlanta went into the hands of the receivers.

It was announced at the meeting that the Georgia State bank, which has branches in the following Georgia towns: Barley, Bowden, Brownwood, Chatsworth, Cordelle, Cumming, Douglas, Douglasville, Dublin, Greensboro, Hawkinsville, Hogansville, Mansfield, Mayfield, Midville, Montezuma, Ocella, Omega, Vidalia and Winder.

Plans are being completed for the reopening of about 12 of the small Georgia banks, not branches of the Georgia State bank, but banks for which the Bankers' Trust company, of Atlanta, was acting as fiscal agent, it was announced at the liquidation offices of the state banking department. TO BEGIN REMODELING
PULLMAN PLANT TODAY

Active work on the remodeling and rehabilitation of the Pullman company's newly-acquired shops in Kirkwood will begin today as the result of contracts awarded Thursday to W. G. Shepherd and Burton F. Williams, local contracting firms, according to announcement Thursday.

The contracts include grading, railroad track construction, concrete foundation laying and some paving work. The Pullman company plant, which is located on DeKalb avenue, Kirkwood, was formerly used by the United States Cast Iron Pipe Foundry company, from whom it was purchased by the Pullman company. It comprises 27 acres in all, and will require considerable work to be reconditioned.

It will be used by the Pullman company as a repair and recondition plant for all its equipment and rolling stock in the southeast.

The Georgia State bank, which has headquarters in Atlanta, has branch banks in the following Georgia towns: Barley, Bowden, Brownwood, Chatsworth, Cordelle, Cumming, Douglas, Douglasville, Dublin, Greensboro, Hawkinsville, Hogansville, Mansfield, Mayfield, Midville, Montezuma, Ocella, Omega, Vidalia and Winder.

Bobby Jones Honored at East Lake Tonight

Elaborate Banquet Planned by Club For Golf Champion

Admirers of Champion Will Gather at Country Club in Honor of World's Premier Golfer—Prominent Speakers Slated on Program.

Bobby Jones will be honored tonight by the members of the Atlanta Athletic club when a brilliant assemblage of guests, including some of Atlanta's most prominent citizens, eloquent speakers, ardent golfers and devoted admirers of Robert Tyre Jones, Jr., gather in the ballroom of the East Lake Country club to pay the champion tribute.

If you haven't heard—Bobby Jones is an Atlanta boy, who, through remarkable efficiency with a golf club, has succeeded in attaching himself to the greatest trinity of honors in golfing world has to offer a fellow. Those honors, to date, stack up as follows: Amateur championship of America, open championship of the same place and open championship of Great Britain.

The dinner tonight is to be a brilliant affair. It could hardly be otherwise with Bobby there. No one on earth, particularly the Atlanta Athletic club, which virtually raised the boy, would get up a dinner for Bobby Jones without seeing to it the very first thing that it was going to be what is technically known as a "brilliant affair."

The dinner tonight will be one of the highlights in the string of tributes which have been tendered Bobby Jones since he stepped down the gang plank in New York, after demonstrating to the folks who live on the island the proper methods of shooting golf if one is seriously striving to win a championship or so.

Carson Now Leading Newspaper Golfers

Shooting the best brand of golf yet to be shown in the qualifying rounds of the annual newspaper golf tournament, A. T. Carson, of The Atlanta Journal, turned in a score of 76 to lower the previous low mark set Wednesday to take low qualifying honors for the second day of qualifying.

Carson, a steady and consistent golfer, started out on his round Thursday with three fours for the first three holes. The fifth hole he found a little troublesome and was forced to be content with a five, one above par for the hole.

On the fifth hole he came back with a par four and also shot the sixth in three for another par. A three was registered on the next hole and a four and five completed his first nine holes for a 36.

On his second nine with two fours and a five threw him one above par. On his last nine holes, Carson found trouble and took a four on the par three hole. The next, however, he negotiated in a four for a par. He was overtaken by trouble again on the next hole and holed out in five for the par four hole. The next hole, a par three affair, he forced to be content with a four, one above par for the hole.

HELEN WILLS ENTERS FINALS AT SEABRIGHT

Seabright, N. J., August 5.—(Special)—Although her game was somewhat unsteady, Helen Wills has reached her second final round since resuming tennis following an operation in Paris two months ago, by defeating Eleanor Goss, 7-5, 6-4, in the Seabright invitation tennis tournament.

As a result, the American champion will meet her sister Californian, Elizabeth Ryan, while Vincent Richards will play Marcel Alonso in the final round Friday.

Miss Ryan Thursday smashed her way to victory over Mrs. Molla Malory of New York, a former American titleholder, winning in straight sets, 6-4, 6-2.

Richards had a hard time with Francis T. Hunter, losing the first set. He rallied, however, and ran through the next two sets and match. The score was 2-6, 6-2, 6-3. Alonso, the former Spanish Davis cup star who now lives in Philadelphia, disposed of Takeichi Harada, Japanese Davis cup captain, 6-2, 6-4. Harada was far below the form which enabled him to defeat "Little Bill" Johnston, a former champion, Wednesday.

Only Miss Wills' spirited rallies enabled her to defeat Miss Goss. Miss Goss played the most inspired tennis but, like most champions, Helen had the advantage when on the verge of defeat.

Her opponent was able to win on Helen's service twice in the first set and three times in the second. Unless the American champion improves considerably over night, experts believe Miss Ryan has an even chance to defeat her in the finals.

In the men's doubles, Edward G. Chandler and Bill Johnston, coast stars, gained their final brackets by defeating Lewis N. White, of Texas, and Louis Thalhimer, the national clay courts champion, 6-4, 7-5.

ALBANY CLUB OWNER DENIES SALE REPORTS

Albany, Ga., August 5.—(Special)—The first day's round in the Albany franchise in the Southeastern league is not for sale and this city will be in the league next year and so long as the league is in existence, Gordon E. Reynolds, president and owner of the club, declared this morning in answer to reports from Atlanta that this city was ready to surrender its franchise.

"We have never even intimated that we were going to quit or that the franchise was for sale," Reynolds said. "The reports that Albany is a 'weak sister' in the league and that we are about to toss up the sponge is absolutely unfounded. We would be glad to see Atlanta and Birmingham acquire franchises in the league as suggested by R. J. Spiller, president of the Atlanta club, but they will have to secure them from some other city than Albany."

GENE SARAZEN TIES FARRELL FOR GOLF LEAD

Montreal, Que., August 6.—(Special)—The first day's round in the Canadian open golf championship, played on the links of the Royal Montreal Golf club at Dixie, Que., ended with two New Yorkers—Johnny Farrell and Gene Sarazen—bidding strongly for the Dominion title now held by Leo Diegel. These two golfers negotiated the 18 holes in 60. MacDonald Smith, registering from Great Neck, L. I., turned in a card of 71. R. Cunningham, of Catarqui, Ont., and Tommy Armour, of Washington, had 72. Diegel had a 73, which is par for the course.

"With Bill" Melhorn, suffering from a sore hand, scratched. Others who scratched included:

John Battan, Lakeville, N. Y.; M. Forest, Lowell, Mass.; J. D. Scott, Rochester, N. Y.; E. Shinner, Crystal Lake, Mich.; Bobby Gruik-Lank, Purchase, N. Y.; A. Kenney, Genesee, Rochester, N. Y.; Dave Shide, Grass Sprain, James Law, Cherry Valley, L. I.; Carroll Stuart, Chicago.

Eleven golfers turned in 75s, C. R. Murray and N. Young, Montreal; W. L. Klein, Wheatley, Hills, L. I.; George M. Christ, Rochester, N. Y.; William Hunt, Bonnie Blair, N. Y.; Fred Hunt, Bradford, Ont.; Joe Torrance, Fairview, N. Y.; W. Lamb, Toronto; Frank Locke, Quebec; C. P. McKenna, Irondequoit, Quebec.

M'GRAW PULLS DEAL TO BUILD UP N. Y. CLUB

(By Leased Wire to The Constitution and The Chicago Tribune.)
New York, August 5.—The recent scouting trip made by John McGraw through the territory of the American association was not in vain. On September 1 there will report to the Giants "Orby" Orwell, alias pitcher on the staff of the Milwaukee club, and his battery-mate, McMenemy. For these players McGraw will send "Chick" Davis, Andy Cohen and Paul Florence to the Brewers.

This information was relayed here today from Milwaukee. Orwell used to be an outfielder. He is a good one, too, but he wanted to pitch, and when he got the opportunity he proved he had plenty. McMenemy is rated the best catcher in the association and ranks right up with the leaders as a hitter.

Cash in Deal.
Davis, Cohen and Florence are only part payment. It is reported a lot of cash will go with them.

Dempsey Offered $300,000 To Box

sey's business manager, who was advised of the deposit at his hotel in New York, "we will be there to claim the money within 48 hours after learning officially that it has been put up."

When Dempsey accepts the $300,000 he has taken the first step in validating his contract with the Coliseum club for a championship fight with Wills "any place in the United States, except New York, some time within the next 12 months."

Doc Krone, official matchmaker for the Coliseum, says the fight will be put on in Chicago before Christmas, but probably within the next two months.

"There's another $500,000 where this came from," said Krone as the certified check was handed over to the cashier of the trust company amid the booming of photographers' flashlights. Under the terms of the contract, another $500,000 must be paid to the champion on August 25.

The Coliseum club is the group which stopped Tex Rickard's widely-advertised negotiations here recently for a Dempsey-Tunney fight. Doc Krone waved his contract in the face of Tex's attorneys, and after a few days of stalling Rickard hurried back to New York for another fling at the Knickerbocker boxing commission.

Krone and his associates have been licensed by the new Illinois boxing commission to do business in Chicago, but thus far they have not applied for a permit for their Dempsey-Wills fight. This will be filed immediately, according to Krone, and they will ask that the fight be staged in Soldiers' field, Chicago's lake front stadium.

INSTALLMENT XL RICHENDA FEELS THE EAST'S ALLURE.

Richenda wished she would go on. There were other things the girl longed to know about this vivacious, perfumed woman. She sat silent as the little bandage with its scent of disinfectant was placed round her tingling wrist. But the other vouchsafed no information—instead she was putting a series of frank questions to the girl, vivaciously, even a little gushingly, interspersed with squeaks of amazement.

"And you are all alone out here? But how thrilling!" Then: "Do you mean to tell me you don't know yet what you are going to do?"

And: "We don't even know each other's names yet. Mine is Lucille Davenant—Mrs.—a widow, you know."

So she wasn't Brett Fairways' wife!

And now the white brow was knitting in perplexity.

"Richenda Peterson! I've heard that name before. Now—where? And it's curious, but your face is very familiar to me. I know I've seen you before—or your photograph. I wonder where it could have been."

She paused in a moment's thought.

"I think," said Richenda, "you probably saw both my name and my face in the newspapers." She had been inclined towards the idea that she would tell as little as possible of herself to strangers in Africa. She had not reckoned on people remembering the winner of the blind ballot in this way. But, faced with such a remembrance as this woman showed, Richenda realized that to refrain from speaking would seem odd to Mrs. Davenant when later she remembered the things which now temporarily evaded her.

Lucille's eyes danced. "How perfectly lovely!" she cried. "It's like meeting Cinderella come out of her kitchen! Have you come to Kenya to find a fairy prince?"

The girl reddened. "I don't want a fairy prince," she replied a little brusquely. "I came out—well, don't quite know why—but, but every one talks so much about East Africa nowadays, and I—thought I might spend my holiday here just as well as in Siberia or Japan!"

Richenda took longer than usual over her toilet that night.

Not for a bag of sovereigns would she have told this stranger about that pictured face gazing out from the page of an evening newspaper, that calm, stern face and all it had led her to do!

"And the little Scotsman I saw you with last night?" Lucille put the question with disarming frankness.

"He was up to his farm," answered Richenda. "I don't know a soul in Mombasa now."

"Why, neither do I—or scarcely a soul. It's a bit comforting to hear of someone else in the same boat. We might do shopping together."

"I'd love to," Richenda felt a thrill of mixed gratitude and excitement.

The boom of a brass gong suddenly reverberated through the hotel.

"Time to dress," cried Mrs. Davenant. "O, by the way, are you sitting at a table alone for dinner tonight?"

Richenda nodded with a smile.

"Why, that will never do," cried the fair woman. "Come and dine at my table. I'll introduce a really charming man to you."

Richenda's feet literally danced across the corridor and down the stairs to her own room. A really charming man! That could only be—Powers above, Destiny had her by the nose with a vengeance. East Africa, too, with its mystic allure, its quiet air pulsing with romance, had her in the hollow of its hand.

The east—the east—it changed her from the sedate typist of those past years into a star-eyed, crimson-lipped, soul-thrilled little girl. She had never had romance yet. She wanted it—wanted it by that turquoise sea which swished singing through the mangroves up to the weed-draped coral rocks along the shore—wanted it under the tremendous silver moon which shone more softly through the swaying palms. Something new sang in her blood—romance—the east.

She didn't know what it meant. She didn't know where it was leading her. She didn't want to know. The silver-bathed singing night allure of the east—it got into the soul of her.

Outside the window a cricket set up a chirping love chant. Richenda Peterson trilled a little song in chorus.

And not a hundred yards away Lucille Davenant was smiling, too—a different smile.

"Bowled first time," she whispered. "Five thousand pounds! Five thousand... and she hunted for a cockroach, the blessed babe!"

She dabbed a big swansdown puff reflectively into a pot of purplish yellow powder. Yes, this stuff really was effective under electric light.

Richenda took longer than usual over her toilet that night. She brushed her wavy hair to greater glossiness, powdered her burning cheeks till their damask showed more softly through the light film, then pinned a scarlet flower to the left shoulder of the plain, slim, satin dress, to match the bizarre lacquer red earrings which hung low below the bobbed side pieces which, in modern fashion, hid her ears.

One last look she gave into the mirror before she switched off the electric light. "I'll do," she said. "I'll do." Then with a giggle: "Now, Brett Fairways, we'll just see what part fate means you to play in my life. I'm not much the least little bit in love with the real you, it does not attract me so much as the dream of you did. Heigho! Perhaps you are going to lead me to a diamond mine or something wonderful. Richenda Peterson, the African millionaire! Woo—oo, how lovely! Or perhaps—"

Her thoughts ran rioting in schoolgirl fashion along a fairy path of improbabilities. Then she shut the door and went sedately on her way to the reading room where she had arranged to meet Mrs. Davenant, her little head held high and the quaint red earrings bobbing against her slim neck as she walked.

Lucille was already awaiting her in a daring gown of royal blue taffeta. Ears, neck and wrist bore equipments of jade. The result was startling but rather wonderful. Suddenly Richenda, for all the bobbing lacquer pendants and the scarlet flower, felt a little ordinary. She tilted her chin a shade higher. Then a murmur, a smile, a bow. Richenda had met Brett Fairways.

She felt strangely ill at ease—a little gauche. She murmured a word, halted, and laughed rather self-consciously. She was glad when, a moment later, the dinner gong sang through the hall outside and they walked across to the dining room. But before the meal had ended all Richenda's discomfort had vanished. Perhaps the champagne helped. She didn't know. She only knew the least little bit in love with the real you, it does not attract me so much as the dream of you did. Heigho! Perhaps you are going to lead me to a diamond mine or something wonderful. Richenda Peterson, the African millionaire! Woo—oo, how lovely! Or perhaps—"

Nevertheless, he was the man of the photograph and he was very charming—very gay and debonaire. Richenda had never met a man like this before.

But she realized also that he was very attentive to this blue-clad, jade-hung beauty who made the third apex of the triangle. Richenda wished suddenly that her own hair was of that shimmering flaxen. Dark girls were so common nowadays—fair ones so rare.

"And where do you mean to go in East Africa, Miss Peterson?" he was asking.

"I haven't the foggiest notion yet," laughed Richenda. "It's lovely to feel that one can move on just where and when, and how one likes until—until—"

TRIUMPHANT! A seemingly unsurmountable difficulty faced us! Our spring and summer dresses at $15 had set a standard—too high a standard, it seemed to us, to be equalled this fall: Autumn dresses are more expensive to create, as every one knows. We talked to manufacturers. They were not hopeful! We wanted too much, they said. But finally we found a few who would work with us. Here is the result. Charming frocks of irresistible smartness. Of crepe satin, Canton crepe, Georgette and moire! That's why we call this a triumphant showing!

Not a Fable

Although It Has A Moral.

Jack is beginning to look up. He returned from France after the Armistice very much down-hearted, the sleeve of his life unravelled and torn.

"Never again! Marry and raise children to become cannon-fodder for Big Berthas! Not me!"

So he acquired a reputation as a woman-hater, achieved local fame as a notorious backer of busted flushes in poker, and was known among his friends by the nickname "Blot," pet diminutive of blotter, in recognition of his inhuman absorbency!

Lightning struck Jack one day. It nearly blinded him. For six months he walked around on air, in a daze. The bell hops at the Hotel Bachelor shook their heads and nodded knowingly at one another.

Well, after the trip up the Bridal path, Mary Jane kept her grip on the bridle, all right! Jack has shied once or twice, but never jumped the fence.

A baby came. Jack experienced the poet's sensation of "trailing clouds of glory." If Mary made a man of Jack, the baby made him a demi-god.

They have bought a home in Suburbia, Jack's Boss helping out with the necessary.

The other day proud father punctuated the Sports Page long enough to read a High Furniture advertisement.

"Say, Mary, this guy Chippendale, who's he?"

Mary explained.

"Oh, him."

"And Divided Payments, explain that, if you can."

Mary explained that.

"Pretty soft!"

Monday evening Mother came to care for the baby. Instead of taking in the pictures, Jack and Mary flivvered right into the High August Sale of Furniture.

Box score of evening's outing by inning:—

Queen Anne Living Room Suite, $195. Dining Room Suite, in the Tudor manner, $195. Axminster Rug, $39.75. Total, $429.75, extended in convenient, divided payments over 10 months.

Result: Mary's ideal is being realized. She is making the home of her heart's desire. And furniture is going up in Jack's estimation, getting to be more than something to sit on, eat on, sleep on. He is talking Art in furniture, spouting Chippendale, etc., to his friends!

Moral: There is an alchemy in love, and unity in divided payments.

August Sale of Furniture, open evenings until 8; entrance after 5:30 P. M. on Hunter Street.

Sterchi Furniture & Carpet Co.
Ready For Business With New Stock at 77 North Pryor Street

This Building, Formerly American Furnishings Company, Now Completely Restocked With New Merchandise From Grand Rapids and Our Own Factories.

The Sterchi Furniture & Carpet company now boasts of three big furniture stores in Atlanta. The store at 77 North Pryor street, formerly occupied by the American Furnishings company, but now owned and operated by Sterchi's, has recently been restocked with all that's new in the way of furniture and rugs and beautiful furnishings for the home.

Grand Rapids Products. Many charming patterns in the fall designs in bedroom suites, dining room, suites and living room suites are now on the floors, ready for inspection and selection. Then there are numerous new odd pieces such as: Tables, chairs, and tables, ladies' desks, mirrors, sewing cabinets and cedar chests. In fact, you will find a most comprehensive stock of brand new furniture and furnishings from which you may choose—easily, selecting just the articles that fit your particular needs.

Our Own Factories. Then there are the pretty new styles from our own factories. Some of the most attractive designs shown by our large chain of stores come from Sterchi's factories, and are almost universally known for their strength of construction and beauty of finish.

Our Three Big Stores. The parent or main Sterchi store is located at 7-9-11 East Mitchell street, and carries a complete stock of furniture and rugs, pianos, talking machines, stoves and kitchen cabinets. The other two stores are located at 77 North Pryor street and East Point, respectively. All stores carry complete stocks and any need in the way of furniture, rugs or music may be filled at either store.

Our Anniversary Sale. Sterchi's regular anniversary sale is now going on at all three Atlanta stores—prices have been reduced to the point of clearing out the furniture—much of the merchandise that carries the sale prices has only recently been unpacked and placed on the floors for sale.

Plenty of Salesmen. At all three Sterchi stores you will find a very competent organization—plenty of able and obliging salesmen to help the customer in search of things needed for the home.

Credit Extended. Sterchi has always been known for the liberal terms extended to those who may not care to pay cash. At all three stores this service may be had for the asking. No matter what you may need in furniture, rugs, pianos or talking machines, just go to any Sterchi store and buy what you need and convenient terms will be arranged to suit your particular financial circumstances. Ponzi Refused Habeas Corpus Writ in Houston

Houston, Texas, August 5.—(AP)—Charles Ponzi, former Boston "financial wizard," lost the second round in his legal fight against return to Massachusetts today, but succeeded in delaying the final showdown.

Judges Charles Ash and district court here refused Ponzi's plea for his release on a writ of habeas corpus, whereupon attorneys for the fugitive gave notice of an appeal, which will serve to keep Ponzi in Texas at least until October, when the state court of criminal appeals will hear the case.

The district court's decision against the financier was the second blow to his effort to escape a seven to nine-year prison term in Massachusetts. Governor Miriam A. Ferguson recently having signed extradition papers for him.

FORMER PRESIDENT OF FAIRBURN BANK INDICTED BY JURY

Fairburn, Ga., August 5.—(Special.)—C. R. Harvey, 44, of Atlanta, former president of the Bank of Campbell County, was indicted here yesterday by a Campbell county grand jury in connection with a note for $2,000 signed by M. D. Collins in 1923 in favor of the bank. It is alleged that the indictment after the note was intrusted to Harvey he converted it to his own use. Harvey was arrested in Atlanta today and was released upon $10,000 bond.

Harvey was convicted several months ago on a charge of "wrecking" the Bank of Campbell County which closed in 1924 and was sentenced to serve one year in the penitentiary but the sentence was later commuted to a fine of $1,000 which was paid. The trial was held in DeKalb county, the case being transferred from Campbell.

Harvey also faces another indictment in connection with the failure of the bank, the trial to open in Decatur on October 12.

HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY

Registered U. S. Patent Office.

THE GREATEST OF THE "INTERNAL IMPROVEMENTS" IN THE UNITED STATES THAT FOLLOWED THE WAR OF 1812 WAS THE BUILDING OF THE ERIE CANAL.

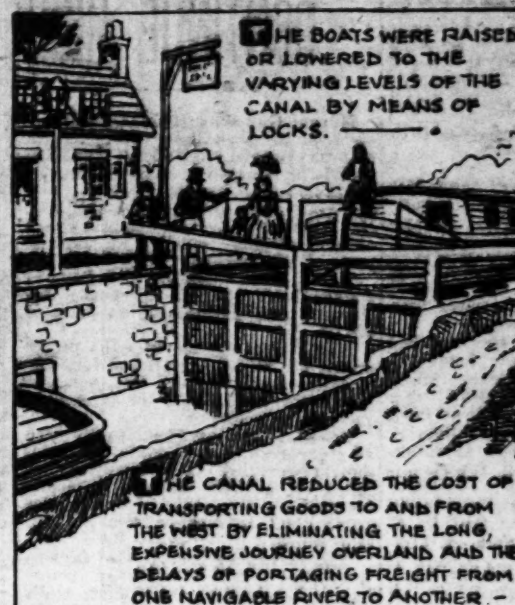

THE CANAL WAS THE GREATEST FEAT OF ENGINEERING IN THE UNITED STATES AT THAT TIME. IT WAS 363 MILES LONG AND WAS BUILT AT A COST OF $7,000,000.

DAVID DE WITT CLINTON BECAME GOVERNOR OF NEW YORK; CLINTON REALIZED THE VALUE AND IMPORTANCE OF A CANAL THAT WOULD LINK LAKE ERIE WITH THE HUDSON AND GAINED THE SUPPORT OF THE STATE LEGISLATURE FOR THE PROJECT. WORK ON THE CANAL WAS BEGUN ON THE FOURTH OF JULY, 1817 AND COMPLETED IN 1825.

The Erie Canal.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

THE BOATS WERE RAISED OR LOWERED TO THE VARYING LEVELS OF THE CANAL BY MEANS OF LOCKS.

THE CANAL REDUCED THE COST OF TRANSPORTING GOODS TO AND FROM THE WEST BY ELIMINATING THE LONG, EXPENSIVE JOURNEY OVERLAND AND THE DELAYS OF PORTAGING FREIGHT FROM ONE NAVIGABLE RIVER TO ANOTHER.

THE TRADE OF THE WEST NOW FLOUED THROUGH THE CANAL TO THE HUDSON AND THENCE DIRECT TO NEW YORK CITY.

AS A RESULT OF THIS INCREASED TRADE NEW YORK GREW RAPIDLY AND SOON SUPPLANTED PHILADELPHIA AS THE METROPOLIS OF THE UNITED STATES.

JONATHAN DAVIS LEADS IN KANSAS

Kansas City, August 5.—(AP)—Interest in Tuesday's primary elections centered tonight on several closely contested races in Oklahoma and Kansas, with indications that an official count may be necessary in some cases to determine the winners.

Incumbent returns accentuated the victory of the wets in Missouri and the defeat of the Ku Klux Klan in Kansas. The contest between former Governor Jonathan M. Davis and Donald Muir, young lawyer of Anthony, for the democratic gubernatorial nomination, held the spotlight in Kansas. Davis held a lead of 275 votes on returns from 2,433 precincts out of 2,542 in the state. The winner will oppose Governor Ben S. Paulen, republican, in the November election.

Charles Stephens, of Columbus, maintained a lead of 21,000 votes over George McGill, of Wichita for the Kansas democratic senatorial nomination as the count neared completion, and it appeared that he will oppose Charles Curtis, majority leader in the senate, in November.

After wheels were fitted to the plane, it was taken to the naval aviation ground, where a guard will watch it throughout the night.

Cobham told Lieutenant Colonel Brinsford he intends to remain in Melbourne only long enough to have his machine overhauled. He is anxious to take part in the aero pageant, but said he would be disappointed if he could not leave on the return trip to London Friday.

HOUDINI STAYS IN SEALED COFFIN FOR HOUR AND HALF

New York, August 5.—(AP)—Fear and not poisoning by carbon dioxide causes the death of miners and others trapped in airtight compartments in the opinion of Harry Houdini, who had himself sunk in a sealed coffin in a hotel swimming pool for an hour and a half today to prove his contention.

Dr. W. J. McConnell, of Philadelphia, a physiologist of the United States department of mines, who examined the stage magician and opponent of spiritualism before and after the experiment, reported that physical reactions from the test were not marked. Houdini said he felt only a slight dizziness when he was released from the coffin.

"The important thing is to believe that you are safe, don't breathe deeply and don't make any unnecessary movements," Houdini said.

Millen, Ga., August 5.—(Special).
The Jenkins county commissioners have called a $200,000 road bond election for September 8, which is the time for the state primary.

Brewster, of New York, to collect a $200,000 judgment from Corliss Palmer, film actress, for the alleged alienation of the affections of Eugene Brewster, wealthy publisher, went to the New York woman today when the court overruled Miss Palmer's demurrer. The actress was ordered to file an answer if she desired to contest the suit.

Miss Palmer did not contest Mrs. Brewster's suit in New York when the judgment was given on charges that the actress, after winning a beauty contest, held by one of Brewster's magazines, had supplanted his wife in his affections.

5,000 Sign Pledges in Drive To Lessen Traffic Accidents

With nearly 5,000 signed pledges of safe driving turned in by Boy Scouts Wednesday night, the campaign of the Atlanta Safety council for safer driving and safer walking was directed, especially at the jay walkers, Thursday, according to Joe Reed, chairman of the campaign committee.

"We are more than satisfied with the results of the scouts' efforts on Tuesday and Wednesday," declared Mr. Reed, "and especially with the attitude of the people approached."

Only one or two cases were reported of people refusing to give the scouts an opportunity to ask their cooperation in making Atlanta a safer place.

Thursday morning 75 scouts in uniform manned the intersections protected by traffic signals and presented "diplomas" to the jay walkers. Many of the scouts carried banners with safety slogans.

Chairman Reed, after a tour of the intersections, stated that a noticeable improvement had been made, and that pedestrians were obeying traffic signals better than at any time since the lights were installed. "Perhaps I am too optimistic," Mr. Reed declared, "but I believe most of our people realize now that the signals were installed for their protection and not simply to expedite the movement of vehicles."

Mr. Reed stated that more courtesy is being shown by motorists as a whole and that in only a few instances did he observe drivers blocking crosswalks while waiting traffic changes, or driving through lines of pedestrians when making turns.

"It is this spirit of courtesy and caution on the part of pedestrians and motorists that will put Atlanta on the honor roll of safety."

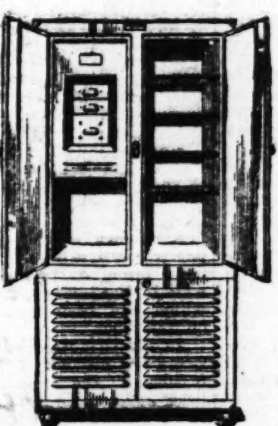

Boy Scouts will be on duty again Friday taking safe driving pledges and cautioning jay walkers who insist on endangering their lives by ignoring signals or by crossing between intersections.

TODACCO PRICES CONTINUE HIGH

Macon, Ga., August 5.—(AP)—Douglas took the lead today in the south Georgia markets, selling 408,325 pounds of the leaf at an average price of $24.95 per hundred pounds, and receiving approximately $116,848.

Nashville ran a close second, with 421,000 pounds sold, at an average price of $24, receiving $101,940.

Tifton was third, with 246,584 pounds sold, $30,835 in checks distributed, and maintaining an price of $24.03.

At a few of the markets the poorer grades are still being offered for sale in order that the finer leaf, some in process of curing, may be offered in succeeding weeks.

Prices are holding up unusually well at every point in the state, statistics tonight revealed. The quantity has fallen off a little, but will probably increase as the days go on, it was pointed out in reports from the several points.

Thomasville reported the highest price paid today, 54 cents per pound having been paid. Other high prices reported were Habiba, 51; Quitman, 45; Camilla, 30 to 35; Fitzgerald, 40; Cairo, 41; Bainbridge, 50, and Waycross, 47.

High averages were maintained today also, the average price paid being around 25 cents per pound, with poor grade of tobacco on some markets.

It is expected that Friday will be the biggest day of the week on the market, inasmuch as many markets have closed on Thursday and it is an "off day" generally.

New York, August 5.—(AP)—A further slight decline was followed by rallies in the cotton market here today on covering and trade buying. December sold up from 12.12 to 12.34 and closed at 12.31, compared with 12.20 at the close of the previous day. The general market closed steady at a net advance of 1 to 2 points.

The opening was fairly steady at a decline of 5 to 6 points and active months showed net losses of 7 to 9 points under a renewal of liquidation and local selling stimulated by favorable weather reports and relatively easy Liverpool cables. October eased off to 17.17 and January touched 17.27. December at 17.16 and January at 17.20. The market was under this pressure, making reactions of about 80 points from recent high levels.

Offerings appeared to be quite readily absorbed, the decline, however, and in addition to covering by recent sellers, a considerable demand was reported, which was supposed to be for both foreign and domestic trade.

The development of this demand tended to check further selling on the weather news, and the market rallied rather sharply and continued to improve on shorts covering in advance of the bureau until after mid-session October traded as high as 17.27. December at 17.16 and January at 17.20 to 22 to 24 points up from the lows. An afternoon reaction on good weather in the belt caused prices to lose 10 to 17 points of the advance, but the market rallied again about 6 to 8 points in the late trading and established a moderate net gain for the day.

Exports for the day totaled 5,118 bales.

TOM S. SCOGGINS ELECTED PROBATE OF JUVENILE COURT

Lawrence pleaded that they needed time to prepare the case and secure additional witnesses and the postponement was the result.

McLaughlin failed to appear in recorder's court and forfeited a bond of $18.

HEAD SERIOUSLY CUT IN AUTO COLLISION

During the early afternoon prices reacted 15 to 17 points from the high on selling induced by favorable weather reports and the market rallied to 8 points on active trading months.

At the start Liverpool was a shade better than bid, but prices opened 2 to 3 points down and closed 1 to 2 points lower. The early reaction was due to the weather in the belt, October trading down to 17.03, December to 16.91 and January to 16.80, or 6 to 7 points under the previous day's closing.

The market later in the morning rallied rather sharply and continued to improve on shorts covering in advance of the bureau until after mid-session October traded as high as 17.27. December at 17.16 and January at 17.20 to 22 to 24 points up from the lows. An afternoon reaction on good weather in the belt caused prices to lose 10 to 17 points of the advance, but the market rallied again about 6 to 8 points in the late trading and established a moderate net gain for the day.

Exports for the day totaled 5,118 bales.

POLICE STATION ESCAPE ATTEMPT NARROWLY FOILED

A wholesale jail delivery of prisoners, inmates of state section 1, at police headquarters, was narrowly averted Thursday night when a group of prisoners attempted to escape from the jail.

The escape attempt was foiled by the quick action of the police, who were alerted by a tip from a confidential source.

The prisoners were held in the jail, and the escape attempt was narrowly averted.

ASSAULT HEARING AGAINST BASEBALL PITCHER DELAYED

Hearing in the case of Hollis McLaughlin, pitcher of the Atlanta baseball club, charged with assault and battery in connection with an altercation Tuesday afternoon between the hurler and W. J. Lawrence, street car conductor, was postponed Thursday until Friday morning, when called before Judge L. F. McClelland in municipal court.

Lawrence pleaded that they needed time to prepare the case and secure additional witnesses and the postponement was the result.

A warrant charging assault and battery was sworn out Wednesday afternoon in municipal court by Lawrence, who came to the aid of his teammate, McLaughlin, who was injured by the batter's throw.

McLaughlin failed to appear in recorder's court and forfeited a bond of $18.

AUSTRALIA SEEKS COTTON BOUNTIES

Melbourne, Australia, August 5.—(AP)—With the objects of increasing Australian cotton cultivation, the government is introducing a bill seeking legislative authority to expend in the next five years $500,000 in bounties on seed cotton and the manufacture of cotton yarns. It is stipulated that half the raw material used in this manufacture must be the product of Australia.

RICHARD CHILD SEEKING DIVORCE

Stroudsburg, Pa., August 5.—(AP) Richard Washington Child, former United States ambassador to Italy and a well known writer, is suing his wife, Maude Parker Child, for divorce. Reports have been current that a legal separation was being sought, but confirmation was not had until today when the records of the Monroe county common pleas court revealed the fact.

The suit was filed June 28, when Judge Samuel E. Shull granted a subpoena on Mrs. Child's return on the fourth Monday in September.

The grounds for the divorce were not made public, as the papers were impounded by Judge Child.

Mrs. Child was formerly Maude Parker. She was married to Mr. Child August 1917. She is also known as a well-known writer.

NO REINSTATEMENT PLANNED FOR GREEN

Washington, August 5.—(AP)—Colonel Fred M. Green, suspended prohibition administrator at San Francisco, will not be restored to that office, it was indicated today at the treasury.

He will be kept on the suspended list until the return of Assistant Secretary Andrews, who is now in Europe, and Mr. Andrews will name his successor.

Colonel Green is under indictment on a charge of embezzling seized liquor.

DAMAGES REDUCED

New York, August 5.—(AP)—The $100,000 damages awarded Mrs. Elsie Himmman Dula in her alienation of affections action against her mother-in-law, widow of Robert B. Dula, tobacco "big game," was reduced to $10,000 today.

Supreme Court Justice Crain ruled that if the younger woman would not accept the reduced sum, the new trial should be ordered, as he considered the original verdict in excess of any damages recoverable.

SPECIALS ADVANCE ON STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, August 5.—(AP)—Stock prices drifted lower today as the market resumed the correction of the weakened technical position resulting from the recent rapid and sustained advance in many issues. While some year selling and profit-taking undoubtedly was inspired by the marking up of the call money rate from 4 to 4 1/2 per cent, the reaction was not generally associated with anything in the day's news, which in the main was again favorable. Trading showed a marked falling off in volume, the day's sales aggregating 1,725,000 shares, as compared with 2,510,000 yesterday and 2,715,000 the day before.

Despite the reactionary trend in the general list, active bidding continued in a few selected specialties. Case Threshing Machine was the individual feature, scoring an extreme gain of 22 points by touching a new high record of 169, as compared with the closing of 124 1/2 earlier in the year. Wall street expects a stock split-up on Case before the end of the year. Remington Typewriter also developed outstanding strength, jumping over 6 points to 119 3/4.

Trading in General Motors continued in enormous volume, the range of fluctuation narrowed down to less than 6 points, the closing price of 294 1/2 representing a net loss of 2 points. Both buying and selling was of a cautious character, with brokers reporting the widespread utilization of close "stops." United States Steel common received better support, the final quotation of 150 representing only a fractional loss.

Revival of activity in the copper shares, based on the receipt of news of red metal prices, was one of the most interesting incidents of the day's trading. New peak prices for the year were attained by Anaconda and Cerro de Pasco, while Kennecott duplicated its 1826 top and most of the others advanced to within striking distances of their peak prices. Oils, as a group, were slow in responding to the excellent semi-annual earnings reports now being published, although special strength developed in General Asphalt, which closed 2 1/2 points higher at 72 1/4.

Sugar shares also were in better demand as result of stiffening commodity prices. South Porto Rican Sugar jumped over 5 points to 115, and American Sugar Refining, Cuban-American and Manati showed net gains of one to three points. Independent steels failed to make any response to the announcement that operations of the Bethlehem Steel corporation were running around 77 per cent of capacity, as against 72 per cent a month ago.

Another outburst of buying in the local gas stocks sent Consolidated and Brooklyn Union to new peak prices for the year. Other stocks in which aggressive buying demonstrations were conducted included International Typewriter and Union Bag and Paper. Profit-taking on the other hand, was particularly heavy in such issues as DuPont, Hudson, Mack Truck, Pierce-Arrow, United States Cast Iron Pipe and Yellow Truck. Outside the market activity and strength in the St. Paul issues, the rails were derisive of interest.

Commodity prices moved within rather narrow limits. Wheat drifted lower on the upward revision of Canadian crop estimates. Cotton closed practically unchanged with traders inclined to restrict commitments pending the publication of the next crop report.

Coffee and sugar prices were slightly firmer.

Call money renewed at 4 per cent, but advanced to 4 1/2 as banks called about $4,000,000 in loans. Time money rates were unchanged, but prime commercial paper was quoted at 4 per cent compared with a previous range of 4 to 4 1/4.

Foreign exchanges were reactionary. French francs broke several points to around 2.82 cents on publication of the Bank of France statement, showing net circulation at a new maximum figure. Other continental rates yielded in sympathy with demand sterling holding steady around $4.85 and 13-16.

MARKET ACTIVE AT NEW ORLEANS

New Orleans, August 5.—(AP)—The market was fairly active today and prices fluctuated in a broader range although there was a lack of definite trend. The trading was largely in the way of commitments in advance of the government report due Monday. After an early decline of 6 to 7 points owing to the call money rate, the market seemed to find a temporary free covering by shorts in advance of the bureau and advanced 22 to 24 points from the lows before the upward movement was checked.

During the early afternoon prices reacted 15 to 17 points from the high on selling induced by favorable weather reports and the market rallied to 8 points on active trading months.

At the start Liverpool was a shade better than bid, but prices opened 2 to 3 points down and closed 1 to 2 points lower. The early reaction was due to the weather in the belt, October trading down to 17.03, December to 16.91 and January to 16.80, or 6 to 7 points under the previous day's closing.

The market later in the morning rallied rather sharply and continued to improve on shorts covering in advance of the bureau until after mid-session October traded as high as 17.27. December at 17.16 and January at 17.20 to 22 to 24 points up from the lows. An afternoon reaction on good weather in the belt caused prices to lose 10 to 17 points of the advance, but the market rallied again about 6 to 8 points in the late trading and established a moderate net gain for the day.

Exports for the day totaled 5,118 bales.

Atlanta Theater.

Captivating Louise Hunter continues to run away with the show, at the week's production of "Sari," the offering of the Municipal Opera association at the Atlanta theater. She plays a charming little gypsy girl and emerges from her role, for the first moment, to become the poised prima donna singing an interpolated operatic air in the second act. Louise Templeman, playing the old father of the gypsy girl, has one of the most commanding parts of the season, which he handles in an admirable manner.

Louise Hunter, Arthur Buckley and Jefferson D'Angelo will have outstanding parts in "The Merry Widow," most popular of all musical comedies which will close the season of light opera at the offering for the last week.

Loew's Grand.

With a wonderful bill of vaudeville headed by Allen Zoo and his noted band and with a great picture "Sari" with Madge Bellamy and Harrison Ford in leading roles, the program at Loew's this week is one of the most pleasing of the year. The hand plays many enjoyable numbers while Miss Edna Martin contributes much entertainment to the number with her work. Coulter and Rose, two popular blackface comedians, appear in their new comedy act, entitled, "Darktown Follies." Cooke, Morton and Harvey offer something real new with their ball

RAILROAD SCHEDULES

The Rialto.

"Bachelor Brides" is the starring vehicle for Rod LaRocque at the Rialto theater and that success has attended his efforts at comedy-drama is attested by the large crowds that have seen the snappy action picture.

The comedy on the same program is the Educational effort, "For Radie's Sake," in which Jimmie Adams can- vases for the cause of the blind, com- pleted by the presentation of Pathe Newsreel.

The Howard Theater.

When John Murray Anderson was arranging the program for his stage, he was planning to do a solo, featuring the Paramount Junior Stars, with Atlanta's own Marion Ivy Harris, who is at the greater How- ard theater this week. A pretty vol- untier stepped forward at one of the rehearsals and ventured the statement that she would be willing to do a solo, and the young lady was Jeanne Morgan, of Boston. Asked if she had had previous professional experience as a dancer, she stated that she had appeared for a brief period in Earl Carroll's "Vanities."

Loew's Grand.

"Fascinating Youth" is the name of the first Paramount feature picture made by the Juniors Stars, which is being shown on the Howard screen this week.

Screen tests for the selection of candidates for the next Paramount Motion Picture school are also being held each day during the week from 11 a. m. to 12 noon.

The Metropolitan.

Mary Pickford in her latest picture "Sparrows" is proving one of the biggest drawing cards of the season, at the Metropolitan theater this week. Crowded houses have been the rule at the morning, afternoon and evening performances, with every indication of record breaking success. The remain- ing performances today and to- morrow, "Sparrows" is not only a remarkable triumph for Mary Pick- ford, but also for the Metropolitan, which is the first time in the history of the theater that the Metropolitan news and views is also being shown.

Tudor Theater.

Now showing at the Tudor is "The Dangerous Dub," the story of a man who walked alone, called a "dub" because he wouldn't fight, taking all they gave him and saying nothing, until they got him tired, and then turned into a fighting wildcat. Buddy Roosevelt, star of the pictures, rides as he has never ridden before, and the picture is crammed full of action, fights and reckless riding.

UPSHAW ASSAULTS GOVERNOR SMITH IN BIRMINGHAM

Birmingham, Ala., August 1.—Representative W. D. Upshaw, of Georgia, has been brought into Alabama to take a hand in the gubernatorial and senatorial primary campaigns which end here Tuesday.

His first speech was an attack on Governor Smith, of New York, who he predicted the death of the democratic party "if democrats con- sider Smith, George Brennan, and Senator Bruce."

Upshaw spoke under the auspices of the Men's League of the First Methodist church. Friends of Hugo L. Black, the senatorial candidate who has been attacking Governor Smith, entertained the congressman last night.

Bibb Graves, candidate for govern- or, has ended his speaking tour, and is making no further attacks on Governor Smith.

Upshaw insisted he was here in the interests of prohibition and not in be- half of any particular candidate, but his speech was interpreted as an in- ferential appeal for Black and Graves.

REQUEST PROGRAM TO BE REPEATED

Visitors at the Atlanta Industrial exposition during its last two days this week will hear the Rialto Royal Park band play several selections from the special request program scheduled for a repeat performance at Lakewood amusement park Sunday, which was made up of music which had been requested by Lakewood concert pa- trons two weeks ago.

Jimmy Calhoun, whose leap from an airplane in a rain-coated parachute last Sunday thrilled nearly 15,000 spectators, is to repeat the jump Sun- day.

SIMS CENTERS FIRE ON UPSHAW RECORD

Douglasville, Ga., August 5.—(Special)—Before a throng of several hundred citizens composed for the most part of farmers, Mayor Walter A. Sims, candidate for congress spoke this afternoon in the interest of his candidacy.

The speaker introduced documents to show that Congressman Upshaw and his family had resided in Asheville, since 1919. Mayor Sims produced the directories for the past seven years and gave the number of the page on which Congressman Upshaw was listed as a resident of Asheville. He stated that the congressman's name did not appear in the directory of the city of Atlanta.

Quoted Record.

Mayor Sims quoted from the official record to the effect that Congressman Upshaw was absent from one-third to a half of his time as follows:

"In the sixty-sixth congress, first session, Congressman Upshaw was absent 27 out of 90 times the roll was called to determine a quorum. The second session he was absent 30 out of 104 times. The third session he was absent 22 out of 62 times.

"In the sixty-seventh congress, the first session, Mr. Upshaw was absent 18 out of 48 times. In the second session of the sixty-seventh congress he was absent 33 out of 110 times the roll was called to determine the presence of the quorum. The fourth session he was absent 29 out of 90 times.

"In the sixty-eighth congress, Mr. Upshaw was absent 39 out of 84 times the roll was called to determine the presence of the quorum, and during the second session of the same congress, he was absent 14 out of 47 times.

"In the 69th congress, first session, which has just recently closed, Congressman Upshaw was absent 20 out of 63 times the roll was called to determine the presence of the quorum. The mayor took Congressman Upshaw to task for his position on the world court, stating that on June 14, 1919, Congressman Upshaw made a speech on the floor of congress and advocated not only the world court but that America should join the League of Nations. "Not only this, but Mr. Upshaw voted for a resolution requesting the senate to enter the world court without any reservations. Mr. Upshaw also voted for an appropriation of $50,000 to sustain and pay the expenses of the world court. Mr. Upshaw states that he is not in favor of this country becoming entangled with any foreign alliances. How can he reconcile the two positions which he has taken? He stated in the Douglas County Sentinel recently when asked about the world court that he stood exactly where he did six years ago. If this is true then he is in favor of the world court for he was for the League of Nations six years ago and the world court is a part of the League of Nations.

"Mr. Upshaw claims to have a splendid record on labor legislation. Let's see what his record is when it comes to helping the 'man in overalls'.

"On July 1, 1919, a bill was pending to make an appropriation for the United States employment bureau in the department of labor. Mr. Upshaw didn't vote at all. He probably wasn't there, and he was not paired.

"On October 10, 1919, Mr. Upshaw failed to vote again on a bill for vocational rehabilitation of cripples in industry. He wasn't paired and didn't vote.

"On April 30, 1920, the retirement bill was pending. There was an objectionable motion excluding members of organized labor from its benefits. Did Mr. Upshaw vote for the 'man in overalls' at that time? He certainly didn't vote, and he certainly wasn't paired.

Did Not Vote.

"On May 2, 1922, labor was very much interested in having the 3 per cent immigration law extended to June 30, 1924, and the motion was to accept the report of the conference committee. Did Mr. Upshaw stand to the rack and support labor in this fight? No! Mr. Upshaw didn't vote.

"Labor was very much interested in the passage of the workmen's compensation bill for the District of Columbia. This bill came up for passage on January 22, 1923. Did Mr. Upshaw stand by the guns and vote for this bill? No! He didn't vote at all, and he was not paired.

Mr. Sims did not refer to Mr. Steele except to state that for every charge he had made against Mr. Steele he had the records to back it up or the statements from reliable people whom he could prove his charges by.

He stated that Mr. Steele voted for an amendment to the semimonthly payment bill, and that the amendment had it passed would have destroyed the effect of the bill.

Rev. Jack Powers, an evangelist, made a brief talk, and explained why he quit the Upshaw camp and was now supporting Mayor Sims.

STATE COLLEGE PLANS
ELECTRIC EQUIPMENT

Athens, Ga., August 5.—(Special.) Plans for electrifying the experimental farm of the State College of Agriculture here in order that the hundreds of farmers and club members who visit Athens may be impressed with uses of electricity have been practically completed. It was announced here today by Dr. Andrew M. Soule, president of the college.

The announcement was made following an address by Harry M. Atkinson, of the Georgia Railway and Power company, before a group of Farm club members at Camp Wilkins.

Immediately after the address, Dr. Andrew M. Soule, president of the College of Agriculture, and Mr. Atkinson began work on plans through which it is expected the state farm will become a model of modern agricultural methods.

"There is one thing I want to announce today," said Mr. Atkinson. "We will join Dr. Soule and work out a plan for equipping the state agricultural farm electrically, under his leadership and according to his plans."

In addition to launching plans for the complete electrification of the state farm, Mr. Atkinson told of great progress that has been made during the past year toward rural electrification.

"Considerable progress has been made along this line since that time. The Georgia Railway and Power company's merger with the Southeastern Power and Light company and the merger of several large power companies into one entity, will result in the complete electrification of the state farm, Mr. Atkinson told of great progress that has been made during the past year toward rural electrification.

"All of the resources of all of these companies will be, I hope, at the command of every farmer in the territory served by the companies who have pooled their resources. There is enough power to go around and there will be still more available as it is needed. Power brought to a farm means the end of drudgery on the farm; it will increase the cost of production; it means the complete electrification of the state farm, Mr. Atkinson told of great progress that has been made during the past year toward rural electrification.
